As Result of Moyer-Heywood Statement.

EX-POLICEMAN KILLED

Shooting the Outcome of Drunken Argument Over the President's Statement.

STARTED BY NEWSPAPERMAN

And Taken Up By Deputy Who Fired the Shot Which Resulted Fatally—The Two Men Had Never Quarreled Nor Was There Any Cause.

WALLACE, Idaho, April 25.—William Quinn, an ex-policeman and a member of the Western Federation of Miners, died here tonight from the effects of a bullet wound inflicted early this morning by Deputy C. C. Hicks.

W. H. C. Jackson, a newspaperman, in an interview in the Times, says he is probably the cause of the shooting. Jackson and Quinn became involved in a saloon quarrel over President Roosevelt's Moyer-Heywood letter. Jackson supporting the president and Quinn opposing. Hot words ensued after which Jackson left the saloon, outside he met Hicks who offered to straighten matters out. Jackson says he proposed that he (Jackson) should return first and ask all hands to drink. If Quinn refused all would be right. Quinn refused to drink. A moment later Hicks entered the saloon and was accosted by Quinn with the words "Here's to my old Missouri friend." Hicks is alleged to have replied, "I'll show you," and to have shot Quinn through the stomach. Quinn and Hicks are not known to have ever had any trouble. Hicks has been locked up in the county jail. Jackson was held for a while, today, but was later released. All three men had been drinking.

GOULD SAILS FOR EUROPE.

Interviewed on Financial and Industrial Conditions of the Country.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Just before sailing for Europe today, George J. Gould was interviewed on his views on the industrial and financial conditions in this country. He said he has no fears for the future and that the country was never as prosperous before. Regarding the two-cent fare on railroads, Gould said he was not in favor of it. He said the railroads could find no profit in the passenger traffic and at the reduced rate it will prove a great injury. He is, however, in favor of railroad legislation as a general rule.

A NOVEL STRIKE

New York Lamplighters Afflicted With Popular Mania.

POLICE AS SUBSTITUTES

A Great Portion of the City Left in Darkness—Police Reserves Sent Out to Remedy Matter—Strikers Put Out Lights After They Were Lighted.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Although the public suffered in convenience last night owing to the queerest strike this city has seen for many a day, that of the lamplighters, the brunt of the trouble was borne by the police.

Good sized sections of the five boroughs, especially the Bronx the upper part of Manhattan and the outlying parts of Queens were in darkness until late, save for the light case by the three quarters moon. Only in the night, when the more remote populace suddenly became aware that the customary illumination was not forthcoming complaints began to pour in upon police headquarters, and to render all the assistance possible.

Much discomfiture resulted. Some of the patrolmen climbed the lamp posts and used matches, a process which required numerous matches as the night was rather breezy. Others, who had more forethought took along poles and tapers. But unfamiliarity with the work resulted in the ruination of numerous mantles. To cap the climax the strikers put out some of the lights lit and from Queens, where some of the police beats are four and five miles long came word by telephone to police headquarters that unless help was vouchsafed it would be daylight before all the lamps had been attended to. This necessitated calling out police reserves to help light up.

The strikers' union number about 400 men. These men are employees of the Welsbach Lighting Company which has a contract to light streets where there are no electric lights. They are mainly Italians. They are striking for recognition of the union.

ROOSEVELT AT JAMESTOWN

Formally Opens the Exposition Today.

PRESIDENT TO SPEAK

The President and Congressional Party, With Other Dignitaries, Leave Washington.

REVIEW FOREIGN WARSHIPS

And Will Later Attend the Reception Given to the Officers of the Visiting Fleet—President and Family To Be the Guests of President Tucker.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—President Roosevelt, the members of his family and a party of his friends left Washington today, on the yacht Mayflower for the visit to the Jamestown exposition. They are to return Sunday morning. On Saturday the president and Mrs. Roosevelt are to make a trip up the James river on the dispatch boat Syph. The congressional party comprising the joint committee of the Senate and House and their families preceded the presidential party this morning.

Secretary and Mrs. Metcalf left earlier in the afternoon and the diplomatic corps followed tonight. The president will take an important part in the opening exercises of the exposition which are to begin shortly after he arrives tomorrow.

In the morning there will be a review of the foreign warships and a reception of the visiting officers. About half past 10 he will be escorted to the Exposition ground and an hour later will go to the reviewing stand where the program of exercises in which the president is to speak, will take place.

In the afternoon there will be a luncheon in honor of the president and his party. In the evening the president and wife will be the guests of President Tucker of the Exposition Company.

NORFOLK, April 25.—With President Roosevelt as a guest and diplomatic and military officials from nearly all of the important nations in attendance, the Jamestown Centennial Exposition will be thrown open to the public tomorrow. Every train and steamer reaching Norfolk tonight brought many visitors. The city is decorated as seldom before and the governor of Virginia has proclaimed tomorrow a holiday. Fair and cooler weather is predicted and as details of the program, land and water ceremonies have been carefully worked out. The exposition management is looking forward to the opening tomorrow as forming a notable epoch in the history of Virginia.

SPANISH HEIR.

MADRID, April 25.—Public suspense has reached the highest point and every unusual noise is mistaken by the excited populace for the booming of the royal salute, announcing the birth of an heir to the throne. Crowds follow the carriage of every minister seen in the vicinity of the palace, supposing he has been summoned to see the newly born child. The physicians in attendance to Queen Victoria report her condition as normal.

FREMONT COURTMARTIALED.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The case of Major Francis P. Fremont, who has been court-martialed for conduct unbecoming a gentleman, as the result of certain financial transactions, was concluded today and submitted to a full court today. The Judge Advocate in submitted the case concluded by saying that if Fremont should pay the debts today, it would not wipe out the disgrace which is attached to his efforts to evade the payment of his debts and would be only an excuse for clemency.

LOST FORTUNE AT MONTE CARLO

GENOA, April 25.—A Poleander named Gatusianski, who recently lost a fortune at Monte Carlo, made a desperate attempt to rob a bank here yesterday. He secured rooms at the Hotel Regina and going to the banking house of Ferrari said he wanted to change $6000 marks into Italian money, asking that the bills be sent to the hotel.

When the clerk came with the money Gatusianski shot and tried to rob him but was arrested before he could escape with the money.

JEALOUS HUSBAND

Holds Up a Dozen Street Cars Because

CONDUCTOR WINKED AT WIFE

Traffic Demoralized For a While and Police Were Finally Compelled to Arrest the Husband—His Attempt to Locate Masher Was Unsuccessful

CHICAGO, April 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Atlanta, Ga., says: Armed with a heavy club, Oscar Huggard, husband of two months, held up a dozen trolley cars in Atlanta yesterday and demoralized the entire system in an effort to find a conductor who winked at his bride.

Huggard stationed himself on Whitehall street, a main thoroughfare and as a car appeared he leaped aboard, rushed to the conductor and brandishing his club, cried:

"Are you the man that winked at my wife?"

"Winked at whose wife?" the conductor said.

"Why I never saw you or either in all my life."

After an argument of 10 minutes or more that brought all the men in the car to the platform, the motorman was allowed to go on. But the husband resumed his watch, waiting for the next car.

Five cars were held up in this manner without finding the winker, and then Huggard brought Mrs. Huggard into action. Together they held up seven more cars without finding the conductor who winked.

By this time traffic on the Whitehall line was demoralized. The police arrested Huggard. He is a business man and promptly gave bond. According to Mrs. Huggard, as she left a car, she had been winked at by one of the conductors.

A RIOT AT GOBLE

A. & C. R. Passenger Train Bumped into Boarding Cars.

CON. HOLSENBECK ASSAULTED

Train No. 24 in Taking Siding Backed Into Work Train Arousing Greek Laborers Who Swarmed Out and Attacked Conductor Hallenbeck.

There came very near being a serious riot Wednesday night at Gobie and only good luck saved Conductor E. H. Hallenbeck, of the A. & C. R. R. from being seriously injured.

Train No. 24, under charge of Conductor Hallenbeck, received orders at Gobie to take the siding there to let No. 23, the Portland train, pass, when they went in on the siding the train bumped into some boarding cars filled with Greek laborers and one of them rushed out and began abusing the conductor, getting in his way and was shoved aside, he immediately retaliated striking Hallenbeck over the head with a club knocking him to his knees and almost under the cars which were moving. Before the murderous assaulter could follow up his attack Hallenbeck gained his feet and ran for the engine which he climbed, closely followed by the entire gang of Greeks, to the number of over 200, who had rushed out of the cars, armed with revolvers and wicked-looking knives. In the meantime the passengers rushed to the assistance of the train crew and by the display of firearms held the mob at bay until they were reinforced by the arrival of the up-train crew, when the Greeks sullenly withdrew to their cars. It is reported that the train crews have been having a great deal of trouble with this gang who seem to be very quarrelsome and it is predicted that unless they are removed there is liable to be serious trouble. Conductor Hallenbeck was on duty yesterday but he carried a welt on his head the size of a hen's egg.
